

Proud of our past. Excited about our future.

Deep in the heart of Southeast Georgia, on the banks of the mighty Altamaha River, Wayne County beckons visitors and newcomers alike. An inviting place rich in history and natural splendor, Wayne County is the home of friendly people from all walks of life who welcome newcomers to their civic groups, cultural organizations and churches.

A community rich in tradition, Wayne County's communities offer their residents a world of opportunities – that irresistible combination of small town charm and the conveniences of the nearby metropolitan areas. Whether you prefer to travel to the sun-kissed beaches of the Golden Isles, or attend one of Wayne County's many festivals, you're sure to enjoy the tremendous quality of life in our corner of the state.

*To find out more about what Wayne County has to offer,
come visit the Wayne County
Chamber of Commerce.*

We'll be looking for you!

AMTRAK Stops Here

124 N.W. Broad Street
Jesup, Georgia 31545
1-888-224-5983

On the Banks of the Mighty Altamaha

Jesup – Wayne County, GA

Catfish, Canoes, & a Railfan Platform, too

It's just a short drive from I-95 to Jesup, located on the banks of the mighty Altamaha River, designated by Nature Conservancy as one of the last great places on earth. If fishing is what you are after, then bait your hook and test the waters for another state record catfish or just some fish for the frying pan.

Late afternoon on the Altamaha River.

Carl Sawyer pictured with the state record flathead catfish caught in the Altamaha River.

Interested in being on the water? Try your hand at canoeing or kayaking on the river. Noted as a undammed river, paddling the Altamaha will take you along paths so beautiful and serene you'll wish you never had to leave.

For many, there's nothing like a train – or maybe a whole lot of them. Downtown Jesup features a railfan platform – within walking distance to food and shopping - set up to let railfans listen to train conductors and engineers as they travel up and down the eastern seaboard.

Traveler info:

Distance: 35 miles from I-95

Open: 9:00 – 5:00

Rates: No fees or admission &

For more info:

Wayne County Board of Tourism
124 NW Broad Street
Jesup, GA 31545
(888) 224-5983 &
(912) 427-2028

www.waynetourism.com

Jesup, GA

www.waynetourism.com